bjections to the Proposed Constitu

Editors Intelligencer.

I was very much surprised to read in your issue of the 29th ult. the objections of John W. Mason, Esq., to the proposed memory is not very much at fault, Mr. Mason consented, as a member of the Committee on Resolutions, in the Republican State Convention, to embody in the State platform the subdivision thereof, endorsing the proposed amendments Such being the case the declarations in his Grafton speech savor very strongly of political heresy. Mr. Mason is recognized as a leader of the Republican party of our State, and a member of the National Ex-ecutive Committee of the Republican party, and as such his orthodoxy should be unquestioned even upon measures of State politics.

From the report of Mr. Mason's speech, it ap pears that he set out by explaining that under ithe amendments, if ratified, every Justice's Court will be a County Court. He says, two County Courts are worse than one. It is rather difficult to arrive at Mr. Mason's meaning here. It appears that he designs to convey the impression that under the amendments each Justice's Court will be a County Court under the amendments, it is a County Court now. The only difference between a Justice's Court now, and a Justice's Court under the amendments, will be that the jurisdiction of the said Courts will be increased. The number of Justice's Court will not be increased.

But a Justice's Court is not a County Court, but a District Court. be unquestioned even upon measures of Court, but a District Court.

But Mr. M. states severe objections to the amendments. He first objects, because they provide for no intermediate courts between Justices Courts and Cir-courts and contends that without in-termediate courts the time of the Circuit Courts will be occupied with trivial official cases to the detriment of more important business.

Jourts will be occupied with this accused to the detriment of more important business.

Until the present constitution was adopted, we had no intermediate courts, and the time of the Circuit Courts was not smore occupied with trivial cases than it is now. But right here it appears that Mr. Mason discloses the fact that he is in layor of the present County Court system, that the fact that he is in layor of the present County Court system, that the case of the people like the old man of the sea, because there can be no intermediate court except it be a County Court, and Mr. Mason had just as well have based his opposition to the amendments, upon the grounds of their abolishing the County Courts.

Mr. Mason's second objection is, that the smeadments do not provide for intermediate courts; that they have not provided for a sufficient number of judicial circuits—that thirteen judges cannot do the work that will devoive upon them by the abolition of the County Court.

Now experience is the best kind of logic. Thirteen judges under our former constitution did the business without intermediate courts. If this were not so Mr. Mason's objection still falls to the ground, for section 14 of the amendment to article S reads as follows:

"The legislature may rearrange the search as follows:

reads as follows:
"The legislature may rearrange the ircuits herein provided for at any session thereof next preceeding upon general election of the people of said circuit, and after the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight, may at any such session ncrease or diminish the number thereof." But I will hasten to notice Mr. Mason's But I will hasten to notice Mr. Mason's third objection to the amendments. He objects because they increased the jurisdiction of Justices to $300. This is, he says, "a great innovation in our laws and will be found wholly unsuited to our people." He goes on to say, "many men who are solvent owe money, and are not always ready to meebee large a sum as $300. The present system does not permit unreasonable delay, but it does procect from the oppression of the heartless creditor. By a little delay the creditor gets his money and the debtor is saved from utter ruin. But if you ratify these amendments suit may be brought for $300 in the morning, and judgment and execution entered in the evening, and property sold the next week. In fact this system may well be called a creditors' bill. It is not sound statesmanship to place one class of people so completely in the hands of the other."

I know Mr. Mason to be a shread lawyer and astute politician, but he certainly made his Grafton speech without mature reflection and due preparation. He appears to forget that all reforms are innovations. The right of the poor laboring man to cast eshool laws are innovations. The right of the poor laboring man to cost shall be alided to the election shall be laid before the Governor the Governor the Governor the Governor the said perpose of the state. It is a majority of the votes in the first of Junuary, to the latest of the Court House, and the present system, many of our citizens are forced to attend our Courts day after the cortination to the court in the good man to cast his ballot is unaulted to him—that the jabolition of slavery was wrong or that the colored citizen should not exercise the right of the elective franchise?

I know that it is very difficult for some men to lears anything that does not run in a channel with their prejudices, and it there was a state of the court House, and there was the present system, many of our citizens are forced to attend our Courts day and term, for the propose of the court House, and there wa objection to the amendments. He bjects because they increased the juris-liction of Justices to $300. This is, he of members of that the colored citizes absoluted not exercise the right of the elective franchise?

I know that it is very difficult for some men to learn anything that does not run in a channel with their prejudices, and it appears impossible for them to forget anything. The increase of the jurisdiction of Justices of the Peace to $500 may be an innovation, but it is nevertheless an improvement on the old system and saves the debtor class an immense amount of trouble and costs. This increase of the jurisdiction of Justices has been tried in many of the States and always with satisfactory results, and it has always inured to the benefit of the debtor class. A large number of the suits which are brought for the collection of debts is upon promisers over notes which are not litigated by the debtor, consequently a Justice of the Peace is as capable of giving judgment upon them as the highest judicial tribunal in the land. To lilustrate: A is a Justice of the Peace. B is the creditor of C, who owes him $500, due by promissory note which may have accrued upon it and render judgment accordingly. If A, as a Justice of the Peace, is qualified to determine the rights of B and C, as is now provided, to the amount of $500.

The has to do is to calculate the interest which may have accrued upon it and render judgment accordingly. If A, as a Justice of the Peace, is qualified to the amount of $500.

The the costs assessed against C amount to five times as much as if B had obtained the against him for $500.

The test als win this State which requires the cereditor, if he brings suit against his debtor, to bring it for whatever haut the debtor may owe him, and of whatever nature it may be, both by promissory note and accounts, and if he should not do this, but only bring his action for a part, he forfeits whatever balance the debtor may owe him. But in some other States the laws are different. The creditor may bring as many actions as he holds promiseory notes against the debtor. The debtor may owe him, but the debtor may owe or he may sue on some and withhold the others. There is one State, with which the writer is acquainted, in which the jurisdiction of Justices of the Peace extends to $500 on promissory notes, and to $250 on open accounts. In this State suits before a Justice of the Peace are attended with such a small amount of costs that men, when contracting heavy debts, pre-fer to give a number of notes each of $500, or a few dollars under the amount, in oror a few dollars under the amount, in order that if sued upon them they may be sued in a Justice's Court, preferring several suits before a Justice to one in the Circuit Court. It is true that this contracts the business of gentlemen of the green bag, and "thereby haugs a hook."

But in regard to the objection which Mr. Mason urges on the ground of the laws." The time of stay in a justice's court is now longer or shorter, as the amount of judgment is larger or smaller, and there is nothing to prevent future Legislatures from adopting the stay laws to the change caused by the ratification of the amendments. But, in the fourth place, Mr. Mason ob-of the amenoments.

But, in the fourth place, Mr. Mason objects to the amendments because they provide for juries before justices' courts, which, he contended, would be expensive. This would not add any expense, above that of the present system. Now, when a matter is tried before a justice of the peace, and one of the parties litigant is dissatisfied he is very apt to appeal, and so the expense of the jury is increased in the County or Circuit Courts, when, had there been a jury in the justice's court it is more than probable the matter would have ended right there.

Mr. Mason's fifth objection is that "Justices' Courts will have to be made courts of record in order to secure appeals, because the amendment to article Three provides that no fact tried by a jury shall otherwise be re-examined in any case than according to the rules of common law."

This abjection of Mr. Mason's L. do not.

than according to the rules of common law."

This objection of Mr. Mason's, I do not think, amounts to any thing, because in cases in which parties anticipated an appeal they could note what they conceived to be errors.

Mr. Mason's sixth objection is that the amendments place the fiscal and police business of the counties in the hands of three commissioners. He appears to think these three commissioners would not represent every part of the counties. The object of the amendment is for these commissioners to represent every part of the county and to legislate for the whole county. Each one represents the whole county. Each one represents the whole county. Each one represents the whole county and he is not circumscribed by district lines, and his duty will be to adminis-ter the fiscal and police affairs of his whole county impartially, not to the ad-vantage of the particular locality in which he resides.

Three competent business men in each he resides.

Three competent business men in each county can arrange the fiscal and police business of a county as well as ten or twenty, and do it much more expeditionally. Then we have a vast saving in expense. The three Commissioners, at which will be termed their "levy term," can transact their business in four days, and all of this at a cost of $24. Let us see what the "levy term" of the County Court of a county with five Magisterial districts costs: Ten Justices at $3 a day for each, $30; President of Court, $4; aggregating $34 per day, or $133 for four days, being $112 above what the costs of the Commissioners will be, and counties composed of ten Magisterial districts now pay for the "levy term" $272, an excess of $238 above what the Commissioners will cost them. We have now six terms of the County Court each year, each a great expense, while we have but four terms of the Commissioners' Court each year, all not costing as much as one term of the present County Court.

Mr. Mason's seventh objection scarcely amounts to anything. In this he objects because the necessary legislation has not been provided to carry the amendments into operation, and contends that there would be an interregnum between the abolition of the present article 8 in our

into operation, and contends that there would be an interregnum between the abolition of the present article 8 in our constitution and the time the amendments would take effect.

Now, the election upon the ratification of the amendments will take place on the 8th day of October, and the officers elected under the amendments will commence the desired of the state of the their terms of office on the first day of January. Now it is provided in the act of the Legislature authorizing the election upon the ratification of the amendments that on "the 25th day after the election, or as soon thereafter as practicable, the certificates of election shall be laid before

Why Will You

Allow a cold to advance in your system and thus encourage more serious maisdles, such as Preumonia, Hemerthages and Long troubles when an immediate relief can be so readily attained? Bosches's German Syraur has gained the largest sale in the world for the cure of Coughs, Colds and the severest Lung Diseases. It is Dr. Bosches's famous German prescription, and is prepared with the greatest care, and no fear need be entertained in administering it to the youngest child, as per directions. The sale of this medicine is unprecedented, Since first introduced there has been a constant increasing demand and without a single report of a failure to do its work in any case. Ask your Druggist as to the truth of these remarks. Large sizes 75 cents. Try it and be convinced.

ELEGANT HAIR is woman's crowning beauty. When it fades she fades as well. While it is kept bright, her personal attractions are still maintained. By preserving the hair fresh and vigorous a youthful appearance is continued through many years. Those who grieve over their fading hair turning gray too early, should know that Ayer's Hair Vigor prevents it, and restores gray or faded hair to its natural color. It is a clear and healthful preparation, containing neither oil, dye, nor anything deleterious, and imparts to the scalp what is most needed—a sense of pleasant and delightful freedom from scurf or dandruff.—New Berne (N. C.) Times.

A Mother's Grief. Black and Blue-Black Shades

A Mother's Grief.

The pride of a mother, the life and joy of a home, are her children, hence her grief when sickness enters and takes them away. Take warning then, that you are running a terrible risk, if they have a cough, croup or whooping cough, which leads to consumption, if you do not attend to it at once. Shiloh's Consumption Gure is guaranteed to cure them. Price 10 cents, 50 cents and $1.00. For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Price 25 cts. Sold by E. Bocking, Agents, Odd Fellow's Hall, and Chas. Moenkemoeller. A Mother's Grief. 87 I-2c.

The Best I Ever Knew OL The Best I Ever Hnew Ot.

J. G. Starkey, a prominent and influential citizen of lowa City, says; "I have had the dyspepsia and liver complaint for several years, and have used every remedy I could hear of, without any relief whatever, until I saw your Shiloh's Vitalizer advertised in our paper, and was persuaded to try it. I am happy to state that it has entirely ourced me. It is certainly the best remedy Lever knew of." Price 75 cts.
Sold by E. Bocking, Agent, Odd Fellow's Hall, and Chas Moenkemoeller. Wool, at 37 1-2c.

SHILOH'S CATARRH REMEDT.—A marvellou cure for catarrh, diphtheria, canker mouth and headache. With each bottle there is a ingenious nasal isjector for the more successful treatment of the complaint, without extra charge, Price 50 cents, Sold by E. Bocking, Agent, Odd Fellow's Hall, and Chas, Moenkemoeller. Coughs.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" are used with advantage to alleviate coughs, sore throat, hoareness and pronchial affections. For thirty years these Troches have been in use, with annually increasing favor. They are not new and untried, but, having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age.

The Throat—"Brown's Bronchial Tro

The Throat—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" act directly on the organs of the voice. They have an extraordinary effect in all disorders of the throat and laryax, restoring a healthy tone when relaxed, either from cold or over-exertion of the voice, and produce a clear and distinct enunciation. Speakers and singers find the Troches useful.

A cough, cold, catarrh or sore throat requires immediate attention, as neglect oftentimes results in some incurable lung diseases "Brown's Bronchial Troches" will almost invariably give relief. Imitations are offered for sale, many of which are Injurious. The genuine "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are sold only in boxes. boxes.
